

Bringing History to Life™

TimeShift America Elementary Learning Objectives

TimeShift America's elementary educational video lessons, and its website resources, are appropriate for grades 2 - 5 in the areas of Social Studies covering History, Geography, Civics and Government, Economics, Public Discourse, Decision Making, and Citizen Involvement.

The featured videos share a unique and engaging history about people and places from across the State of Michigan. The videos and activities are aligned with Michigan K-12 Social Studies Standards, and will help younger students develop a greater understanding of the world.

The video lessons and educational activities are appropriate for in-classroom, blended, or remote asynchronous lesson plans. The ready-to-use activities and resources are found within www.timeshiftamerica.com.

Each featured video is approximately five minutes in length. From the website's Lesson Guide and Standards, teachers can view a summary of the featured video lesson, along with the Michigan Social Studies Standards that apply to the specific lesson.

The accompanying activities are also designed to promote literacy and math skills, and can be used to assist with formative assessments. The videos and activities enhance cooperative learning discussions among peers, teachers, and parents/guardians.

TimeShift America is ideal for today's culturally responsive educational landscape. The growing library of video lessons have many rich and authentic local connections that students and adults can easily understand and enjoy.

In association with Cultural Education Consultants of Michigan, LLC, and educators across the state, TimeShift America LLC is committed to teaching beyond the textbook and Bringing History to Life™.
